

Opinion

by Stephanie Yeagle

View Author Profile

syeagle@ncronline.org

Follow on Twitter at @ncrSLY

Join the Conversation

Send your thoughts to Letters to the Editor. Learn more

July 24, 2018

Share on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

Here's what's new at NCRonline.org today:

New credible fear guidelines cast uncertainty on asylum seekers coming to US

Justice Action Bulletin: Catholic worker among protestors breaching nuclear weapons bunker

Soul Seeing: Blessed are you achievers, blessed are you duds

Column: Trump may yet prove to be Israel's poison chalice

ICYMI: Questions abound about SNAP's future

Pope Francis approves U.S. bishops' delegates for October's Synod of Bishops

Pompeo says Putin summit helps with religious freedom push

Glasgow university fires chaplain after pride parade reparation prayers

At Global Sisters Report:

140 years of perpetual adoration are unbroken by fire, flood or war

UN moves forward on compacts to manage migration, refugees

Column: Seeing 'Africa' with new eyes

Q & A with Sr. Phyllis Hughes, celebrating five decades in the health care industry

In other news around the web:

Nicaragua Clergy, Siding With Protesters, Becomes 'Terrible Enemy' of Ortega

Artificial Intelligence Shows Why Atheism Is Unpopular

Advertisement

Recruiter opens Yale Divinity School to diversity, local clergy

Civil rights legend Meredith says he's on a mission from God

Cuba's draft constitution opens path to gay marriage

Revelations of US cardinal sex abuse will force pope's hand