

The Great Debate Video

Michael Sean Winters | Feb. 4, 2013 Distinctly Catholic

The St. Thomas Aquinas Center has posted the video [1] of the debate they sponsored between Fr. Sirico and myself last week. I apologize for the scratchy throat which happens at that altitude. And, I had forgotten that Fr. Sirico was pretty nasty, accusing me of taking quotes out of context, which I did not, and suggesting I was in bed with liberation theology, when it is his brand of economic reductionism that more closely resembles liberation theology's intellectual bias, albeit from the other direction. Still, I hope you will enjoy the debate.
