

Berkowitz: My Fav Conservative

Michael Sean Winters | Feb. 11, 2013 Distinctly Catholic

The Washington Post has an interview [1] with Peter Berkowitz of the Hoover Institution, on his new book about the future of conservatism in America. Berkowitz is, as I have noted before, one of the three smartest people I have ever met. I will be getting a copy of his new book at a book party Wednesday night and look forward to reading and reviewing it here at Distinctly Catholic. The interview in the Post shows why this book is a must-read for anyone interested in politics.
