

The Church's Dark Side

Michael Sean Winters | Apr. 3, 2013 Distinctly Catholic

Michael Voris used to air a program called "Real Catholic TV." As one bishop friend told me, "The funny thing is that it is not real, it is not Catholic, and it really isn't TV." Now, Voris has renamed his venture "ChurchMilitant.tv" and the change in name has not altered the content. Vile, hateful, meandering, paranoid, ignorant, bigoted, these are the adjectives that come to mind. I have to ask: If the Church has the time to investigate the LCWR, it has the time to investigate this, no?

Here is Voris' latest, a "documentary" on homosexuality. Be prepared. This stuff is not for you if your stomach is easily upset. You can find the video here. [1]
