

Please Join Our Webathon

Michael Sean Winters | Apr. 29, 2014 Distinctly Catholic

As some of you may know, NCR is conducting its annual webathon this week. Every morning, I get up, brew the coffee, read the paper, look at my notes, sit down at the computer and do my part, writing hopefully provocative commentary on the Church, politics, and the estuary where the two intersect. This week, we need you to do your part. You can brew coffee if you wish. You do not have to retrieve any dog-eared books. You do not need to take any notes. You just have to get out your credit card, go to our webathon page, [1] and make a donation. I am so grateful to NCR for all the coverage of the Church that you really cannot find anywhere else. I hope you are, too. Please be generous.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/25/2015 - 07:08): <http://ncronline.org/blogs/distinctly-catholic/please-join-our-webathon>

Links:

[1] <https://donatenow.networkforgood.org/ncr>