

A woman administers ashes on the forehead of Father Brad Zamora during a prayer service for repentance and healing for clergy sexual abuse which included prayers for victims, abusers and the church, Aug. 22 at Our Lady of the Brook in Northbrook, Ill. (CNS photo/Karen Callaway, Chicago Catholic)

by Peter Feuerherd

View Author Profile

Join the Conversation

Send your thoughts to Letters to the Editor. Learn more

September 19, 2018

Share on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

Who are American Catholics? The Pew Research Center offers a statistical sketch. The results: we are ethnically and politically diverse, we like Pope Francis but have questions about church authority. We are also losing the faithful at a rapid clip.

Paul Moses reports for The Daily Beast on how adult women in churches are frequently targets of sexual harassment by clergy.

Archdiocese of Newark, New Jersey, parishioners hold on to the faith in difficult times. A similar story about parishioners in Lincoln, Nebraska.

In the Archdiocese of Chicago, Catholics from nine parishes host prayer services dealing with the abuse crisis

In the Diocese of Belleville, Illinois, parishioners honor faithful priests.

Amidst difficult times for the church, a Denver-area parish continues to grow.

Tampa Bay Catholics plan to address racism.

Parishes in high-cost Marin County, California, join with tenants to fight sudden rent increases.

A third of baptized Catholics in southern Louisiana no longer consider themselves a part of the church.

Advertisement

This story appears in the The Field Hospital feature series. View the full series.