

Opinion

by Tracy Abeln

View Author Profile

tabeln@ncronline.org

Join the Conversation

Send your thoughts to Letters to the Editor. Learn more

June 21, 2019

Share on BlueskyShare on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

The Copy Desk Daily highlights recommended news and opinion articles that have crossed the copy editors' desks on their way to you.

The international sisters' organization requested the creation of the women deacons commission three years ago and might share the report. They also pressed for greater involvement of women religious in synods of bishops and in the workings of the Vatican office that oversees the world's religious orders. Joshua J. McElwee in Rome talks to Claretian Missionary Sr. Jolanda Kafka, UISG's new president.

Read: UISG president says group is considering publishing women deacons report

One Catholic world: Malawi's bishops are taking the lead in embracing tech platforms as tools for evangelism and pastoral messages, especially for youth in Africa, where communications costs are high.

Speaking of younger: It's rare that a paper at an academic conference is received like a hit song at a rock concert. But such was the case at the Catholic Theological Society of America's 74th annual convention. Let's go!

Bringing Berrigan forward: A report from an event celebrating Daniel Berrigan, "patron saint of the nay-sayers"

To that end: A refresher on Catholic social teaching, as reflected through the lens of a sister working in San Diego with migrants, treated as guests

Want to keep updated with the latest news from the National Catholic Reporter? Sign up here for news updates by email — including one that will send you Copy Desk Daily every Monday through Friday.

Advertisement