

Opinion

by Mick Forgey

View Author Profile

Join the Conversation

Send your thoughts to Letters to the Editor. Learn more

September 26, 2019

Share on BlueskyShare on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

Our team of copy editors reads and posts most of what you see on the websites for National Catholic Reporter and Global Sisters Report (the NCR project focusing on women religious). The Copy Desk Daily highlights recommended news and opinion articles that have crossed our desks on their way to you.

Read NCR's latest editorial, The status quo won't save the planet or the Catholic Church: "The synod on the Amazon brings to a concentrated point a necessary discussion of the survival of the planet and the survival of a church undergoing unprecedented change."

Speaking of which, climate change looms over all. Thomas Reese spells out what we definitely need: To save the planet, we need faith, ethics, science and economics.

Bishop Thomas Gumbleton notes the modern day prophets among us — young people: Children lead the way to stop violence, save Earth.

In case you missed it, NCR responded to the formal impeachment proceedings underway against President Donald Trump: Editorial: Impeachment inquiry against Trump is well worth the effort.

Addiction ministry centers on the power of the Eucharist: Calix Society is an international group of Catholics in recovery, with some 35 chapters worldwide and over 200 official members.

Advertisement

Want to keep updated with the latest news from the National Catholic Reporter? Sign up here for news updates by email — including one that will send you Copy Desk Daily every Monday through Friday.