Take a moment to reflect on the photo.

When despair for the world grows in me and I wake in the night at the least sound in fear of what my life and my children's lives may be,

I go and lie down where the wood drake rests in his beauty on the water, and the great heron feeds.

I come into the peace of wild things

who do not tax their lives with forethought of grief. I come into the presence of still water.

And I feel above me the day-blind stars waiting with their light. For a time

I rest in the grace of the world, and am free.

— Wendell Berry, The Peace of Wild Things

Americans use 50 billion plastic water bottles per year.

Consider your use of plastics.

40cean.com is an innovative business; it hires people to remove plastic from the oceans; the business is funded through sales of bracelets made from recycled materials. A $20 bracelet funds one pound of plastic removed from the oceans.

Special thanks for our place in wild things
